* The "AQUARIUS for Children" armband is authorized to participate in the animations.

* The organizer reserves the right to change the program.

The animator only entertains the participants of the animation without assuming responsibility for the care and safety of the participants of the animation. The animator does not make changes to the diapers or provide meals, snacks or medications.

During the animation, children under the age of 3 and children with disabilities affecting their independent functioning should be under the care of a legal or actual guardian (including parents or other adults).

In other cases, the legal or actual guardian decides whether to provide personal care for the child during the animation.

However, leaving a child on the animation does not mean transferring the responsibility of care or supervision of children to the Hotel or the Animator.
